COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

ENACTUS

Enactus is a platform for enabling progress through entrepreneurial social action. A webinar was held 8 November 2020, titled "We Reap what We Throw", on solid waste management . The speakers were Mr Omedra Srivastava, Technical Head of Swach Bharat Mission and Mr Ajay Arora, Founder of Waste Management Cooperation. Students were guided on taking up the projects on waste management through the webinar. An Enactus Orientation was held on 5 December 2020 for first year students. A number of meetings were held in November and December 2021, where teams of students presented proposals for projects, wherein innovativeness and feasibility discussions were held. Finally three projects were green flagged on 6 December 2020: "Project Tide Turner" under Student Coordinators Gurleen Kaur and Sehajpreet , Project Jamboard and Project Sil-sila. a global youth movement to fight against pollution around the world. It is designed to inspire young adults to reflect upon their plastic consumption, discover solutions to reduce the consumption and lead change in their homes, communities, institutions and offices. The students took 2 to 3 weeks to complete the Basic Level, Leader level and Champion level.

“Project Jamboard” under Student coordinator Jeevika Narula and Divyapreet is an online peer-tutoring initiative taken up in order to tutor students within the college who find themselves struggling with written and spoken English. The project commenced in December 2021 with nine Enactus student members forming the tutors. In March 10 new tutors have joined the project. All tutors work with 2-3 students each. The duration of one class is an hour, conducted over Google Meet, twice a week. The teaching process includes weekly reading sessions with students to observe the change in their speaking skills within a given time span. Along with this, grammar, reading , writing and comprehension components are covered.

“Project Sil-sila” under Student coordinators Anupreet Kaur and Jannat, works to upcycle Rumala Sahibs, sarees and old clothes into envelopes and other items, while generating employment for people financially affected by the Covid-19 pandemic. The group began with its research work in January. By mid-February, Rumala Sahibs were collected and members of the team had identified the target group i.e. tailors who had suffered losses in income due to the pandemic. In March, two tailors from Gurugram were employed. Samples of envelopes made by them were sold at the end of March with a profit of 50%. The cloth was initially upcycled into a Shagaan envelope but after some market research, it was found that Gutka Sahib covers are more in demand as well as more profitable. Currently, the group is negotiating with an NGO and is in talks with certain domestic helpers who have been affected by the pandemic. It is also in the process of launching these products online via Instagram, while exploring more products like potlis for their collection.

At the peak of the Covid second wave and the lockdown, Enactus students were involved in volunteering for resource networking and support for Covid patients and their families. It began with a WhatsApp group called “Serving Humanity”, consisting of faculty and students of MSC. The Enactus volunteers verified information and reached out to patients with correct leads as they sought hospital beds, ambulances, oxygen supply, blood and plasma donors. The students were provided certificates of appreciation at a Delhi Police programme on Covid management on 16 June 2021.

Students interested in Enactus were selected as members on 27 September 2020 (2nd and 3rd years) and 9 February 2021 (1st years). Office bearers were selected on 8 May 2021, following two-rounds of interviews. The following students were declared as selected: President- Jeevika and Anupreet, Secretary- Shreya, Joint Secretary -Vaishali and Social media head- Mansi
